As The Gater Sees It....

By FRANK SCHWASS

All loyal Alpha Phi Gammers will commune with nature at Stinson Beach come Sunday, April 10. Approximately one ton of spaghetti, potatoe salad, and sundry staples will be consumed by those present. It is expected that surf frolicking, softball games, horse-shoe pitching, and poison oak gathering, will offer entertainment for the group. A nominal charge of four-bits will be assessed members of the organization and their friends.

All loyal militarists in the school will be interested to know that "All Quiet On the Western Front," THE war picture, will be shown in the Gal's gym Friday night. The military element will probably be fascinated by Erich Marie Remarques' visual description of the good clean fun a war can be. Of course, when hoards of field-gray-clad German soldiers are mowed down while attempting to take a salient point, it is known as a "strategic" error. It is possible, of course, that a number of people here will take offense at this picture because it portrays the German soldiers as human beings instead of baby-stabbing ogres. It is possible, too, that our local militarists will be disappointed because of the absence of flag-waving, stirring marches, and pompous, medal-strewn generals.

From SFJC comes a plaintive letter urging interested State students to attend a Peace Society Conference sponsored by the J. C. and promulgated because of the increasing unrest among the nations of the world. Peace committees are fine things, of course, but if memory serves aright, the largest Peace Organization in the world, the Oxford Group, forgot many of their ideals at the beginning of the Sino-Japanese festivities, and militantly sponsored a Japanese boycott. Boycotts are touchy things to play around with but that didn't bother the Oxford Group and from their actions, it may be seen that Peace Committees are subject to human frailties like everyone else.

The Junior Fantasy, which proved an overwhelming success, was subject to several faults which, in themselves, were minor and cast no reflections on the hard-working directors and cast. If we mention these faults it is not with the idea of sneering at these people but it comes, rather, as a piece of constructive criticism. In spite of Harold Chandler's swell acting as an inebriated student, some people found fault with the "bashful boy" episodes because of too much waving of hands, etc. In fact one student was overheard to remark that Chandler's bashfulness reminded him of a combination of the Seven Year Itch and Grand Mal Epilepsy. For another thing, either too many tickets were sold for the entertainment or too many people crashed the gate sans ducats because the Auditorium was packed to the rafters and many ticket holders were put in the cold.

FORENSIC MEMBERS LEAVE FOR PHI KAPPA DELTA MEET AT COLLEGE OF PACIFIC FRI.

"Woman Chases Man" Chosen by Nelson As Oratory Subject

State debaters were today busy preparing for their trip to attend the Pi Kappa Delta Speech tournament held at the College of the Pacific Friday after two non-decision debates with Washington State College yesterday.

The tournament at Stockton will bring together all the leading colleges of the Pacific Coast. The question for debate will be: "That the National Labor Relations Board Should be empowered to enforce arbitration of all industrial disputes."

In the Varsity division of the tournament, State will enter Marianne Nelson and Jeannette Jennings in the women's section and Bob Van Houte and J. Wallace Gallagher in the men's section. In the Junior College division, Horeene Honnef and Bernice Resnick will represent the women and Bob Sigerson and Bob Sweeney, the men's section.

Miss Jennings and Miss Nelson are entering women's oratory and also in extempore, along with Miss Resnick. Mr. Sweeney, Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Van Houte are entering men's extempore. No men are entering oratory. Miss Nelson will speak on "Women Chases Man," "Controlling America's Traffic Deaths" will be the subject of Miss Jennings' speech.

In their debates with Washington State, Marianne Nelson and Jeannette Jennings took the negative on the N.L.R.B. question while in the evening Wallace Gallagher and Bob Van Houte upheld the affirmative. This was the tenth debate held with Washington State and, according to Van Houte, Washington promises to return next year for another series of debates.

Mrs. Maribelle Nelson and Mr. Marion Ounjian will act as chaperons and judges.

NEWS GUILD GIVES MERIT AWARD TO WORTHY JOURNALIST

Various awards for outstanding journalism and literary work during the semester were discussed at a meeting of the San Francisco State chapter of the American Newspaper Guild last Wednesday noon in Annex A7.

The journalism awards, which will probably be small silver cups, will be given to the two students who have done the most outstanding work in journalism during the semester. Members of the guild will not be able to compete for the awards, but editors and managing editors of the Gater as well as all newcomers will be allowed to enter the contest.

Clubs To Judge

In the literary field, the winners will be selected by the Scribes Club and the Sphinx Club. The winners of the literary award will be judged by their contributions to the Orphic, a semesterly publication sponsored by the Scribes Club. Contributions will include short stories, essays, verse and drama.

There will also be award for outstanding art work. All members of the Art Department will concentrate on one theme and the best drawing will be chosen by the heads of the Art Department. An official announcement, concerning the awards and the rules of the contest, will be made by the News Guild during the coming week.

Alpha Gamma Holds Semi-Annual Hell-Day; Initiation of Pledges

Alpha Phi Gamma will hold their semi-annual "Hell Day" for the initiation of new members on Friday, April 8, on the campus. The day of festivities will be concluded with a formal ceremony that evening at the home of one of the members of the organization. Pledge Captain Lou Morris will head the committee which will devise many amusing stunts for the pledges. Those students who will attend their classes dressed in the customary initiatory garb of worn white shirt, and newspaper cap are: Ed Smith, Sibyl Hurning, Almarie Porteous, Al Cartwright, and Doris MacDonald. Jean Dooley and Connie Field will complete their initiatory work next semester.

Sunday, April 10, the group and their guests will have a beach picnic at Stinson Beach, and all alumni members are invited to be present.

FANTASY PRESENTED AGAIN

Fantasy's Success Demand Re-showing; Auditorium Packed

By BILL BUCHAN

Second showing of "The Character" will be presented in Frederic Burk Auditorium, Wednesday evening, April 13, at 8 P. M., by popular request.

"The Character," Vernon Rees' satire on college life, scored in its premier at Frederic Burk Auditorium Friday night. An overflow audience of over 500 people packed the auditorium, as a cast of 35 presented the comedy written by Rees and with original music by Roland Ingraham.

Bit players stole the show from the nominal stars, Bud Chandler and Alice McCoy. Harold Jacobs, in the supporting role as Percy, stopped the show with his solo act towards the close of the second act, George Fenneman, ad libbing his way with the ease of a veteran, matched the performance of actor-writer-director Rees, the distraught play director of the campus show, in his role as the stooge of the campus.

Rees and Jacobs

The acting of Rees and Jacobs was the high spot of the production filled with numerous high spots. Rees turned in a clever performance never overacting in a part that was more or less difficult to hold within reasonable presentation without going into theatrics.

Nominal stars were Alice McCoy and Harold Chandler, supported by Joan Smith and Marshall Blum. Miss McCoy in the role of Mary, and Chandler in the role of Bob turned in creditable performances in the leads of the Junior Show.

Five hit tunes were featured in the show. Alice McCoy's presentation, backgrounded by the A Capella choir, of "Only You" was the high spot of the musical score. The song, particularly suited to the voice of the singing star, was easily the ace tune of the five. Harold Chandler soloed with "I Gaze At You" and joined the feminine star in "I Can't Believe" as the climax of the show. Helen Newell, spotted in a specialty, sang "I've Lost You" and a trio composed of Kay Wildeberger, Dawn Wilson, and Jane Callum sang "Dancing Together" as background music for the specialty dance presented by Audrey Stewart and Howard Demeke.

Smooth Production

The satire was smoothly handled by the cast. The action, paced by the antics of Jacobs, Rees, and Fenneman, was laid in the halls of Character University. Following the ancient theme of boy meets girl, enter the villainess, finally the happy ending, the Junior Show moved through the two acts at a rapid pace.

The orchestra was under the direction of the composer, Ingraham, and arrangements of the music was made by Peter Rugolo.

HEDDA GABLER STAGED ON CAMPUS 3 NIGHTS BY COLLEGE THEATER

Collins, Decker Take Leads In Student Cast Of Ibsen's Production

Isben's immortal Hedda Gabler will realize its first State College production at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday on the stage of the Little Theatre. Admission will be by student body card or a small fee of thirty-five cents for non-students.

The cast includes Lillian Collins, veteran of a past Ibsen work entitled "Ghosts," who will take the role of Hedda; Fred McGowan as Judge Brack, expert in dialogues; Bud Decker as George Tesman, Hedda's husband; Molly Levin as Miss Juliana Tesman, Evelyn Geinzer as Mrs. Thea Elvated; Donald Joy as Ejlert Lovborg; and Rita Sadler as Bertha. John O'Shaughnessy, chairman of the Drama Council, is in charge of the technical production. He will be assisted by Ben Smith, an old trouper and make-up expert.

Documentary Films Are Still Here

Al Jolson Film And "Steamboat Willie" Next Fri.

Attended by a large crowd of students and friends, "Hands," a short novelty, and "Sunrise," an 11-reel feature, were presented in the Women's Gymnasium last Friday evening.

Introducing the German Influence to America, these two films feature odd-angle photography. In "Hands" the appearances and movements of hands convey a story. In a sense, it is a compromise between the purely abstract film and the realistic movie with a plot. "Sunrise," starring George O'Brien and Janet Gaynor, is a striking picture in which the photographic art is the standout. In some parts, the film develops emotional tension as well as pictorial beauty.

Next Friday evening the last in the series of documentary motion pictures will be presented in the Women's Gymnasium at 8 o'clock. The program will include four films, two singing scenes from Al Jolson's "Jazz Singer," a Movietone newsreel of George Bernard Shaw, and "Steamboat Willie," Mickey Mouse's first talking picture. The feature will be "All Quiet on the Western Front," the famous World War film, produced in 1930.

These films are being shown in connection with Dr. Arnesen's Motion Picture Appreciation course. All students and friends are invited to attend the program free of charge.

PREXY CANDIDATES GIVE CAMPAIGN PLAN

By TIM GUINEY

Three candidates for the next presidential election, last night presented Executive Board members with a set of rules to be complied with in the election, asking for official support of the plan, which the Board granted. The plan is a result of a conference of the candidates, Ed Smith, Norman Zeck, and Cliff Worth.

The program, which places definite limitation on financial expenditures and advertising of all prospective Student Body Officers, will be effective only for the coming election.

Under this plan, two campaign rallies will be held, the first a regular meeting in which platforms will be stated; the second in the nature of a forum in which the general Student Body will be entitled to ask questions of prospective officers.

Other features of the plan are: 1. A maximum cash outlay of $10, 2. No more than three posters, 2 inches by 3 inches, 3. One streamer, 10 inches by 2 inches, 4. No use of Post Boxes, 5. No defacing of school property, 6. No Golden Gater advertising, 7. No bands or orchestras, 8. No tangible merchandise to be given away, 9. A maximum of 5000 printed cards, no larger than United States penny post card size.

All prospective candidates for elective Student Body offices should obtain necessary petitions from Miss Edith White, (Student Body secretary), on Monday, April 11, to be returned by 4 P. M., Monday, April 18, for approval by Student Body Executive Board.

Douglas Kidd Presents Nine-Piece Swing Band At Inaugural Ball

Doug Kidd's versatile orchestra will present the swing music for the Inaugural Ball, scheduled for April 30. The nine-piece band, featuring an outstanding vocalist, includes several former State students. The dance, first State affair at which Doug will have entertained, will be held from 9:00 p. m. to 1:00 a. m. in the Colonial Ballroom of the St. Francis Hotel. The price per bid is one dollar.

"Hail to San Francisco State" will be the theme of the evening with the college colors predominating in the decorations. The brief installation ceremony has been written by Norman Zech and Edith White.

"The News Behind The News"

There is nothing like going out on a limb, as my old Indian uncle used to say, so we are now going to assume the task of insulting about 90 per cent of the college organizations, chiefly for their lack of interest in the Federation of Clubs.

Now, for the benefit of the curious and uninitiated, it might be well to explain the function of the Federation of Clubs. Firstly, the group intends to co-ordinate the functions of the various organizations of the college, bringing any conflicts or duplication of efforts out into the open, in the hope of smoothing out the existing friction in the best possible manner.

"RUSH WEEK"

The Federation hopes to organize a "Rush Week," or some such name, wherein newcomers to the college are given chances to join the group in which their interest lies. Under our present system, the confused scrub or transfer knows little about the process of joining an organization, except for the infinitesimal amount of information given out in Handbook. The Federation will contact new students in the college, explain the functions of the various clubs, help them to join the one in which their specific interests lie.

The organization itself is the result of much work on the part of Ed Smith, who acts as chairman of the group. Mr. Smith has hopes of student body subsidization of clubs, giving every organized group on the campus a certain amount of money with which to carry on its work, as well as helping new groups to get started.

GROUP UNSUCCESSFUL

Yet, with all of these fine ideals, the organization to date has been little short of a failure. Just where the blame lies, I am not certain. It may rest completely on the shoulders of indifferent club presidents, or again, perhaps the fault can be found in lethargic groups of club members who have failed to require their presidents to attend Federation meetings.

At the last meeting of the Federation, 12 club representatives, out of 35 active campus groups, were in attendance. In such a case as this, how can anything be done, any effective legislation be put through?

If you, as a member of any club or organization on this campus, have the interests of your group at heart, see your president and demand that he or she at least attend the meetings of this group that holds your specific interests at heart.

For my part, I can only sincerely hope that the work of Ed Smith will not go to waste.

ABOUT CRASH COATS

Mr. James Fitzgerald, about whom we have written many, many lines of copy, reports that his newest by-product, the Crash coats, are definitely going over here at State with a bang. Well over a hundred orders have been taken by the good Mr. Fitz to date, with prospects of a great many more being sold within the near future.

We've already heartily endorsed the idea, seeing this as an excellent medium for the advertising of the college. In the newspapers or on coat pockets, publicity is still publicity. Mr. Fitzgerald can be found in various places around the campus, taking orders and giving sales talks with enough zip to sell ice to the proverbial Eskimos. His coats sell for two bucks per, 25 cents being added for postage, the product to be delivered c. o. d. about two weeks following the placing of the order.

YOU'LL KNOW HIM

You cannot fail to recognize our Mr. Fitz. Look for a chap with a gleam in his eye, pencil and paper in hand, wrapped in the coat of his dreams. It won't be a hang-over. You just have to see Mr. Fitz to appreciate him.

By the time he arrived, another student had applied the eraser, to leave, "Dr. Jones will not meet his lasses Wednesday." Not to be outdone, Dr. Jones erased one more letter.

CO-ED S CORNER

By CAROL CROUCH

We have finally struggled through this week's massive pile of fan mail. Besides telling us how wonderful and elevating and all Co-Ed's Corner is, it revealed various and definite remarks upon our recent stand in the lounge question. First from Frances Bolander, A. W. S. prexy, comes—

"At last it looks like we are going to get something done about a girl's lounge. We have appointed Lois Ahrens to look into the matter. She interviewed Dr. Roberts, Dean Ward and Dr. Barney, and all of them agreed that there was a great need for such a lounge. Dean Ward and Dr. Barney are now working on this matter."

And here's the other side:

"Dear Co-Ed's Corner—I was under the impression that the S. F. State College was an Institution of Learning—not of rest. If it is necessary to go to College for rest and social gab, why in El go to College? We're here for purposes of education, not to become super sitters and gab experts; at least I hope that most of us are. There are several excellent nooks and crannys at State that are utilized for conversation . . . unless you want a mob around you when you expound your theories on dates and dresses . . . they're quite cozy for conversation."

Well — maybe we could call our column "Notes of the Lounge Lizard" or "Lounging With Lizzy."

We feel vicious again and have been keeping our eyes open for juicy subjects. Nothing could be juicier than the black eye Blum threatened to give Demeke last week while lunching at "El Greco's." Their lavish politeness between tuffs amuses us.

How's this for juice and goo? The oh-so-masculine president of A.M.S. is now writing under the nom de plum "Fluffy Duff" and it's women's stuff. Seems like a girl can't keep any of her ideals anymore. First Miguel then Tom—Oh well—

TAKING THE BUMPS WITH GLADYS WARD

Verne Harris made the best crack I have heard in a long time. She looked at my skates and naively remarked, "I guess I'll need a large pair—I have thick crepe soles on my shoes."

Anne Paulsen helped her around, and they both do quite nicely on skates—and all right off the ice, too, thank you. I never saw such concentration as that of Calonica. Ellie does some right nice little figure eights. Louis Jost, ex-Stanfordite, can show some of the local boys how.

Rugged individualists are Robert Hodges and Margaret Welsch—they skate reverse when everyone else is going forward. Mahoney and Robey constitute a public nuisance when they heavily spring around, cleaving the air with sharp blades. The center is reserved for butterflies, boys.

Who were the youngsters joy-riding in the old wreck in the rear of the rink? I wonder how long it would take that car to get to New York?

Rail-sitters and fence-straddlers may be all right as diplomats, but the Thursday morning session is no place for them. How would you like to pile up against the side, and split your scalp open on apair of blades?

BLACKMAIL CORNER

If they don't come through, we'll tell about Ida Fertig's Sutter Street Romeo . . . "Chuck" Lyon's post "Hard Times" confession .. . . Tex Sigerson's brunettes and his Excursion — we're still holding it for a bigger price. . . . Everything we know about Vernon Reese. . . . We could fill a column with Gallagher, but he doesn't give a hang who knows. In fact he's proud of it and we can't get a thing out of him.

Put Hush Money in our box.

And remember this, girls:

There may be more ways of killing the cat than kissing it to death, but that's the surest way we know.

Have you noticed—

The four-legged chrysanthemum that has been following our own Mr. Schwass around the campus enticed by hunks of sandwiches.

LID-LIFTER

Editor of Golden Gater,
Dear Sir:

Many compliments have reached me for the success of "The Character". This was not due to any one person, but to the cooperation of all concerned. To name the individuals who contributed to its success would take hours of writing and reams of paper. Several made outstanding contributions. Because of an error in the printing of the programs there was no acknowledgement made for the splendid work of Fran Twohig and Audrey Stewart, the girls who gave hours of their time for creating the routines, teaching those talented girls—Betty Fisher, Claribel Bley, Bette Pierce, Peggy Clifford, Dawn Wilson, and Kay Wildberger—and giving our show the professional touch. The Specialty dances, with Howard Demeke and Frank Collin, were also created by these girls and added much toward its success.

The entire cast turned in a splendid performance. Their director, Vernon Rees, has done himself up proud in three fields: writing, directing, and acting.

To Fred Auch, I throw a rose for his untiring help in organizing the orchestra.

And to the Golden Gater we say "Thanks!" The publicity you gave this play far surpassed our fondest dreams.

Faculty cooperation is an indispensible factor in such a project, and we express the appreciation of all concerned to Dr. Roberts, Dr. Knuth and other members of the faculty.

No show is successful without a capable staff of stage technicians, and we wish to express our thanks to Burton Johnson, Cliff Worth and Ernie Miguel.

As for myself, I share honors with Pete Rugalo, who arranged the music; the orchestra, for their interpretation; and the vocalists, who put the songs over.

Let me again thank all those whose cooperation went to make "The Character" the success that it was.

Sincerely
ROLAND INGRAHAM

CAMERA CORNER

- Club news
- Contest
- Prizes

By DOUG MacMULLEN

Extension of the current camera contest to April 20—an addition of two weeks—was announced by the contest management yesterday. Inadequacy of one week originally allowed for the snapshooting became apparent in the middle of last week when complaints started to roll in. It was pointed out that the great majority of the entrants do not process their own film and for that reason alone the original time limits would not be sufficient.

Sports photographers were given added incentive by the pledging of a three dollar wholesale sports merchandise order by the Associated Men Students. Tom Thorpe, A.M.S. president, said that his organization's prize offer is made primarily to increase the student interest in State sports activities.

The grand prize will be a gold engraved cup, donated by Jenkel Jewelers. The cup is radically different in design from those usually offered in talent parades and other major State contests. It is slender, mounted on a tall onyx cylinder with a gold base. Other prizes, offered for the winning pictures in the five classes of the contest, consist of theater tickets and photographic supply orders on Eastman Kodak stores and Hirsch & Kaye's.

Judges will be experts from downtown camera supply houses. The selection of the winning prints will be made at the exhibition on April 21 and 22.

Prints may be entered by any Stater not professionally engaged in any branch of photography with the exception of officers of the Camera Club. They may be in any of the following classes:

A—A view of the campus (or any part thereof).

B—A pretty co-ed.

C—A member of the faculty (candid shot).

D—College athletics.

E—College activities.

Toughest competition is forecast in classes B and D. As many prints may be entered in the contest as the entrant desires. Each print must bear on its reverse side the photographer's signature and box number, class (A, B, C, etc.); and name of camera used. All photographs must be turned in to the Co-op Store together with a copy of the entry blank and ten cents to defray contest costs.

ENTRY BLANK

I certify that all photographs herewith submitted were taken by me after March 28. Please enter them in the 1938 All-College Camera Contest.

Just a few words here about the splendid Student Concert that was presented by the Music Federation last Monday. Every one of the numbers was outstanding, so I can't praise any one performer any more than another. All I can say is that if we continue to have such fine performances, State will be able to build up a tradition by these concerts. Norman Zech did his usually good job in arranging the program and in announcing the numbers. Here's to more of last Monday's high quality programs!

Skaters Given Rules For Ice Skating Party

"Reckless skaters" are asked to obey the rules and regulations of the rink when attending the Thursday morning ice skating parties sponsored by the Winter Sports Club. Walter Campbell, manager of the San Francisco Ice Rink, has announced that certain rules exist and that it would be best if all skaters abided by them.

The Rules are as follows:

1. Do not sit on the rails or dangle your feet over the sides. This is to prevent serious injuries resulting from people falling near the rails or by being forced into the rail.

2. Skate with the crowd and not in the opposite direction.

3. Do not skate faster than your ability permits you to control yourself.

4. "Couples Only" means couples only.

5. Do not skate when it is not your turn. "Ladies Only" is for women skaters only.

6. All fancy skating should be done in the center.

During the regular afternoon and evening sessions "Ice Guards" are employed by the rink to curtail the antics of any skaters who may be endangering others, but rental of the rink by a private party does not include the services of "skating policemen." It is therefore up to the students to obey the rules themselves.

Badminton Ready To Start—Crary

Final entries for the mixed doubles badminton tournament are being taken by Doug Crary, director of noon recreation. Twelve teams have put their names on the sign-up list to date, but more are wanted to make the tourney more representative.

Ru Stone, who has won about all the shuttlecock contests in these parts for some years past, has teamed with "Joe" Foley, a promising "fresh-woman" racketeer, to form one of the stronger combinations.

Shirley Ferman and Bob Bragg and Elsie Bernard and Carl Goldstein, are other pairs who, on the basis of past performances, should put on good performances.

Women Meet To Nominate And Plan Hike

Nominations for new officers for next semester will be the main order of business at the WAA meeting to day at noon in the Activities Room. A short program to follow the regular business meeting will be held with Helen Newell and Helen Louise Cox as the featured stars of the entertainment.

Hike Planned

A gigantic hike for all W. A. A. members has been planned for Sunday, April 10 at Lake Laguna. The entire cost of the trip will be fifty cents for the round trip. The picknickers will leave State at 8:45 in the morning and return sometime that late afternoon or evening. The women can prepare their lunch before hand or make it at the picnic grounds.

Weekend Party

The W.A.A. will spend a weekend at Point Reyes on April 23 and 24. Only 25 of the girls are allowed to go, and the W. A. A. officers are urging all interested members to sign up early for the excursion.

Berta Bolander, president of the W. A. A., spent the last weekend at the convention of California State Colleges and Junior Colleges in Chico as the official representative of the San Francisco State College.

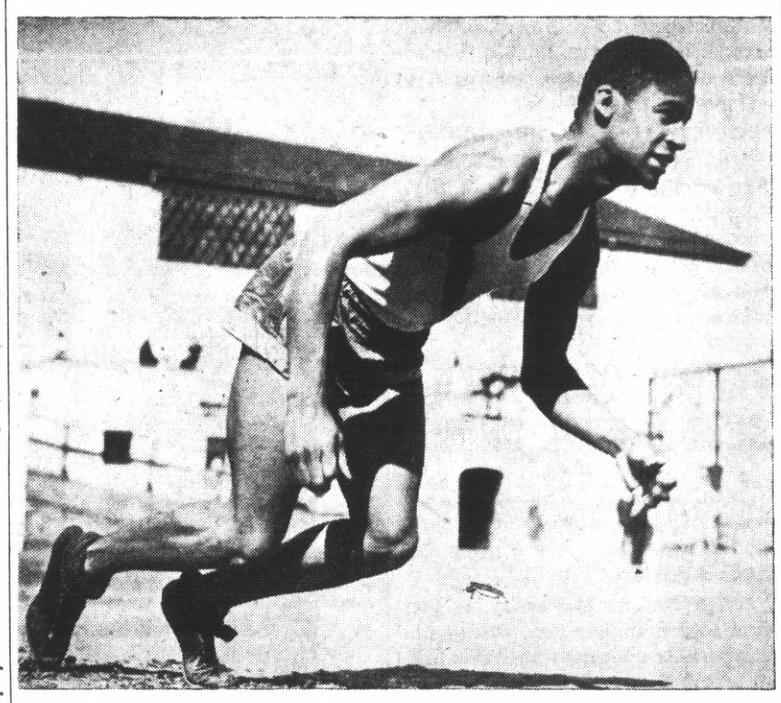
Women's Ping Pong Tournament Played

Carolyn Searles turned in the first victory in the current women's singles ping pong tournament when she defeated Betty Mae Polkinghorn in a three-set match. Play takes place daily in the Corrective Room of the women's gym.

Virginia Gildea, Shirley Ferman, and Bernice Resnick look to be the class of the entries, and are in the second round of play, due to being given byes in the first round.

Miss Gildea has long been recognized as one of the standouts of the fairer sex, and Miss Ferman, with Phillip Chinn, copped the mixed doubles elimination last fall. Miss Resnick plays a hard game but is a little erratic. If she can steady down in the tight spots she will probably be among the finalists.

Off To.... The Races



Another "iron man" for State is LUTHER THEOFIELD, frosh flash pictured above. A broad jumper and dash man, he has already broken two State records in his freshman year. He smashed the broad jump record in the interclass meet and broke the meet record for that event in the Modesto Junior College track meet. In three meets he has garnred 26 points for the Gaters.

San Jose Spartans Defeat Gater Baseball Squad 10-3

Pulling away in the late stages of the game, the San Jose State Spartans downed the Gater nine 10 to 3 last Saturday morning at San Jose.

State held the San Joseans to a 5 to 2 score until the seventh inning when three runs were tallied. Two more in the eighth stanza turned the game into a walk-away.

The San Jose team scored three runs in the first inning when Roy Wormell dropped Garcia's long fly in left field. A four-bagger by Zimmerman and a triple by Riordan accounted for a run in the third and fourth innings.

Roy Wormell's single scored Charlie Iago for State's first run in the second inning. "Spider" Turner made it two for the Gaters in the third canto on a sacrifice fly by Iago. After being walked, Iago circled the bags on a pinch-hit triple by Steve Ebert over first base in the last inning.

The Spartans collected ten hits from George Mialho, with Sanchez grabbing three for high point honors. Iago and Wormell each smashed two safeties for the Gaters.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
State	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	— 3
hits	0	1	1	0	1	2	1	1	1	— 8
San Jose	3	0	1	1	0	0	3	2	x	— 10
hits	1	1	1	2	0	1	2	2	x	— 10

SLUGGERS VS. NAVY IN INTRAMURAL TILT

In one of the closest and most exciting games ever played in intramural competition, the Eighty-Twos nosed out the Golden Gaters 6-5 with a last inning rally that nipped the publication hounds.

The papermen had tallied four times in the first frame, but the Eighty-Twos cut the margin steadily and finally won the game when Anderson singled and stole around to third, scoring on a hit to left.

In today's game Harden's Sluggers tackle Cox's Navy in the first appearance for either of these two squads. In the first week of play only one official game was played. The Block "S" won its battle by default and the tussle between the Gophers and Schultzies was not played.

Gater Netmen Meet Dons In League Contest; Lose To J.C. In Non-Loop Tilt

Dons Slight Favorite Over Gaters As 2nd Round Of Play Begins

By DOUG CRARY

Second round play in the Northern California Intercollegiate Tennis Association begins this week, with the Gaters taking on the University of San Francisco Thursday afternoon at the Palace of Fine Arts courts. The Dons were victorious in the first encounter by a 7-2 count, but do not figure to win—at least, so easily—this time.

After showing lots of form and fighting spirit in the match with San Jose the early part of last week, the Golden Tide Racketeers had a tremendous letdown Friday when they encountered the court representatives of San Francisco Junior College on the Palace courts. This being a non-conference match, and their leader and spark plug, Jack Witt, absent, the Gaters merely went through the motions and succumbed to the Rams, 9-0.

The State racketmen have now won over St. Mary's and lost to San Jose State and U. S. F. in the league race, so do not stand very high. Using the imagination and comparative scores a bit, we could predict a victory for the Gaters over U. S. F. in the coming match, for San Jose beat the Dons badly, while barely eking out a 5-4 win over State.

Ed Harper of San Jose had no trouble in beating Tom Clecak of the Dons when they met, so on paper Witt should be favored over Clecak. Rod Kavanagh, playing in Witt's absence, gave Clecak a stiff argument but lost when they played three weeks ago.

According to Miss Hopper, "the girls will be social outcasts if they don't wear gingham or the like. If your man likes old-fashioned girls, wear calico and be the apple of his eye."

Newman Club Holds Communion Feast

Members of Newman Club will hold their semi-annual Communion at the 9:30 Mass in St. Mary's Cathedral on Palm Sunday, April 10, and breakfast will follow at the Koffee Kup, Eighteenth Avenue and Geary Boulevard, at 11:00 o'clock.

According to Dolores Goetzee, chairman for the occasion, a very interesting program has been arranged, with Edward O'Day of the San Francisco Recorder as the guest speaker at the Breakfast. Community singing will be a featured part of the entertainment.

Although Newman Club is sponsoring the event, all Catholic State students are invited to attend the Communion-Breakfast, which is one of the most important activities of the Club each semester. As it occurs on Palm Sunday, the Communion-Breakfast affords Catholic students an opportunity to make their Easter Duty.

Cost of Breakfast at the Koffee Kup will be 50c per person. Those who are certain they will attend the Communion-Breakfast are requested to sign up on the poster on the bulletin board in College Hall. As the first poster has been filled up, numbers on the new one will start at 51. Those who have not already signed up are urged to do so immediately.

As a climax for the day, members of the High Sophomore and Low Junior classes will be entertained at an informal tea in Frederic Burk from 2 to 3. All members of these classes are urged to attend the Open House.

On Friday evening, Fathers' Night will be held. Parents of the Frederic Burk pupils and their friends are invited to visit the classrooms between 7 and 8 o'clock, after which all the visitors will meet in the school auditorium to hear an address by Dr. Walter Morritt.

Following the dinner, the group will attend the showing of Hedda Gabler in the Little Theater. All members and students of French are invited to attend. The price of the meal has been tentatively set at fifty cents but the final cost will depend upon the number of students attending.

The day of the regular meetings of the club has been changed from every other Thursday to every other Wednesday at noon in the activities room.

STUDENT LOAN FUND RECEIVES DONATION

A check for $150 was presented to President Roberts last Wednesday for the Student Loan Fund. The presentation was made by Mrs. Louis A. McCrystle, an active worker of the Patrons Association of the college. Through Mrs. McCrystle's comments on the activities of the association, Mr. McCrystle became keenly interested in the Student Loan Fund. In turn, he told friends of the many ways in which this fund was used to help men and women of the college in their financial difficulties. As a result, a business friend presented the college with a check for $150. This makes a total of $605 which has been contributed directly or indirectly to the Student Loan Fund by the Patrons Association since 1935.

Open Road Club Presents Lecture

Mrs. Dorris will present an illustrated lecture to the Open Road Club on Wednesday, April 6, at noon in Room 209. The subject will be "Headline Countries of Today," including Czechoslovakia, the Rhine Valley, and Hungary, countries over which the threat of war hangs so heavily today.

INTERNATIOAL CLUB SPONSORS FORUM

"Why I want (or don't want) a dictatorship in America" will be the theme of a Faculty Forum in the Activities Room, Thursday, April 7, from twelve to one o'clock.

Sponsored by the International Relations club, the discussion will include remarks by Miss Mary L. Kleinecke, Dr. Floyd Cave, Dr. Theodore Treutlein, and Dr. Leonard Ascher.

Bailey announced: "The highlight of the evening will be an old-fashioned Easter egg hunt, to be held on the campus (the eggs to be laid by the Music Fed Executive Board members). There will be the usual refreshments, games, dancing and decorations in the Easter theme. The committee is hoping to have the Music Faculty provide a skit for the evening's entertainment. Come, all you guys and gals and be good eggs, we'll all have a grand scramble but we don't want any of you to get hard about it."
